All honor to the memory of the great discoverer, Christopher Columbus.

Don't fail to see the grand parade this afternoon. It begins promptly at 2.30 p. m.

This is the children's day, and every little heart should beat with happiness on this great holiday.

THE HERALD is out early to day in order that its employees may have a half holiday and witness the parade.

Read the line of march to be followed by the procession this afternoon which we publish on this page.

The recent rains came just at the right time to settle the dust thoroughly for the school children's parade.

To her majesty, Queen Columbia greeting. Long may she live, and may her reign be one of peace and happiness.

Some people are puzzled by the fact that Columbus Day is celebrated some on the 12th of October. In order to answer the question several have put to us, we publish an explanation of the matter on our first page today.

THE LINE OF PROCESSION.

Following is the order of the march of the procession which has been arranged to do honor to the memory of Columbus this afternoon.

The procession will start from the public school grounds at 2:30 o'clock, march to Washington street, where it will turn north and go to Seventh street, then turn west to Elizabeth street, then north and pass St. Joseph college, where the convent girls and college boys will join the procession. After passing the college a turn will be made to the west at Sixth street, thence to St. Charles, south on St. Charles to Eighth, east on Eighth to Elizabeth, and down Elizabeth to Fort Brown.

Entering the Fort, the procession will march around the parade ground, passing in review in front of the administration building, where it will be inspected by the commanding officer of Fort Brown, Bishop Verdague, veteran soldiers of the Mexican and Civil wars, county judge, city mayor, members of the city school boards, and other prominent citizens.

After leaving Fort Brown, the procession will turn east at 14th street, march to Jefferson where it will turn north and proceed to the public school ground. Upon its arrival at the school ground, a salute of twenty one guns will be fired by a volunteer detachment from the Fort Brown Garrison. Queen Columbia will be received and escorted to her throne, and the public school pupils will then finish the ceremonies with singing, speaking, etc.

An ode written for the day by the authors, Miss Adelaide Proctor, will be read by one of the young lady teachers. There will also be short address made by several gentlemen, both in English and in Spanish.

The order of the procession will be as follows:

GRAND MARSHAL and aids.
BRASS BAND.
PUBLIC SCHOOL GIRLS.

FLOAT, with Queen Columbia. Nine Maids—four large girls representing the four nations that made explorations in America, Spain, England, France and Holland, and the five small ones, the years 1492, 1592, 1692, 1792 and 1892. (The queen will be escorted by a company of mounted Spanish cavaliers represented by boys of the public schools.)

BOYS of the Public School.
GIRLS of Mission School.
BRASS BAND.
BOYS of St. Mary's School.
BOYS of St. Joseph's College.
DAUGHTERS of MARY.
SEVEN Civic Societies in order.
CARRIAGES with Distinguished Visitors, Veterans, Etc., Etc.

All those wishing extra copies of the paper to morrow with the write up of the parade, must send in their orders to day.

There will be a grand baile to-night at the Rio Grande railroad depot.

PARAGRAPHS.

THE dedication ceremony of the great Columbian exposition at Chicago takes place to-day.

By THE way, there's another candidate for governor. The prohibitionists are running a man.

THE Hogg bosses may run the machine, but they will find that the machine can no longer run Texas.

How many thousands of voices will be lifted to day in the grand old anthem "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

It is claimed that Sam Jones converted 3,000 sinners in San Antonio. These will all vote for Judge Clark for governor.

In Pennsylvania the ballots will be about three feet wide and four feet long, this year. The ballot boxes will have to be something immense to hold many at a time.

EDITOR CANFIELD has severed his connection with the San Antonio Express to accept a position on a leading Chicago journal. He is one of the friends who will be missed when he is gone. Every reader of the Express will miss him. THE HERALD offers him sincerest wishes for his welfare in the great metropolis.
